

RISO, Inc. Releases New Two-Color, One-Pass Digital Duplicating Series

RISO, Inc. Leads the Way in Power, Speed, and Precision

Burlington, MA – March 1, 2018 – RISO, Inc. announces the North American release of the company's latest advance in digital duplicating, the MF9450 Digital Duplicator. RISO's newest model is a fully automatic cut-sheet digital duplicator, producing two-color documents in a single pass at rates of up to 150 pages per minute. With the MF9450, speed, color, versatility and reliability are built in, making this digital duplicator the perfect choice for high volume one- and two-color printing.

Combining true 600x600 dpi image quality with high-speed two-color printing, the RISO MF9450 produces sharp, clear images, even with fine lines and small characters. Swappable color cylinders provide over 70 available colors to choose from, and the MF9450 accommodates a wide range of paper types, giving you a range of options for your output.

The MF9450 features advanced workflow capabilities to reduce pre-press and make-ready times by up to 50% over more traditional two-color processes. The MF9450 leverages decades of industry-leading design and manufacturing practices to deliver the legendary reliability and longevity that RISO customers expect and rely on. The RISO MF9450 is now available from RISO and their sales channel network worldwide.
